DADDY DUCKS BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION

Sen. Henry Jackson ducks a handful of gooey cake Friday as his daughter, Anna Maria, celebrates her 1st birthday. Because of work on the tax bill, the Washington state Democrat didn't want to leave the Capitol so Mrs. Jackson brought Anna and arranged for the party in the new Senate restaurant.

LBJ Orders Gitmo Made Self-Sufficient

Washington (AP) — President Johnson directed Friday night that the Guantanamo Naval Base be made permanently self-sufficient in water supply. And a Defense Department spokesman said Cuban water will not be used even if it is made available.

This was the main part of Friday's U.S. response to Prime Minister Fidel Castro's action Thursday in cutting off of water supplies piped into the base from a Cuban river.

In announcing the cutoff, Castro said it would continue until the release of Cubans being held in Florida on charges of fishing illegally in that state's waters. The U.S. order obviously wipes out this bargaining point for the bearded Communist leader.

Cut Dollar Flow

In addition to the water directive, Johnson ordered further economic steps against the Red Cuban regime, including a reduction in the flow of dollars from Cubans employed at Guantanamo.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk in outlining the situation earlier said "Cuban broadcasts suggest a concerted campaign against our presence in Cuba."

To this Cuban President Osvaldo Dorticos replied that his government will lay claim to Guantanamo "at a time we consider convenient" through international organizations.

In a broadcast from Havana monitored in Miami, Dorticos said "we never use indirect, cunning measures to obtain our purposes. When we have a purpose we state it clearly and we conquer it heroically."

Make It Clear

But he added that he wanted to make it clear that Cuba did not intend to use the Guantanamo tension to move on the base.

The White House announced after two-hour-long Johnson sessions with top strategists that a following presidential order, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara issued these instructions:

1. The big U.S. naval base at the eastern end of Cuba is to have assured control over its water supply both by conversion of salt water to fresh water and by sending in water by ship.
2. Reduce the employment of the approximately 3,000 Cuban workers on the base who are subject to Cuban government control and whose wages have helped Cuba's foreign exchange some $5 million a year.

Broke Agreement

The White House statement declared Prime Minister Fidel Castro broke an agreement Thursday when he cut off the Cuban water supply to Guantanamo. It termed this "reckless and irresponsible conduct" and added "the consequences of further provocations by Castro should be carefully weighed by all nations."

In announcing the cutoff, the Communist Cuban ruler said the pipeline would remain shut down until the release of 29 Cuban fishermen seized off Florida Sunday and now awaiting trial on charges of fishing illegally in that state's waters.

Castro later modified his order to permit water to flow between 8 and 9 a.m. But up to Friday night, the Navy said, there had been no resumption of the water service.

Tell OAS

The Castro action is being called to the attention of the Organization of American States for consideration in connection with the pending charges against Cuba there, the statement said.

Venezuela has accused Castroites of supplying arms for subversive activities.

Johnson has been pressing for early final action.

It was decided to start the compromise task next Monday, a week earlier than originally expected.

But the conferees plan to meet only on Monday and Tuesday because Republicans will be absent the rest of the week for the annual Lincoln Day rallies.

Begin Feb. 17

The conferees expected to begin voting Feb. 17 on their compromise. These when completed will have to be put to a Senate and House vote, but this is expected to be perfunctory.

It's expected that the bill will be wrapped up for Johnson's signature in time for the take-home pay of workers to be effective starting next month. The present 18% withholding rate is expected to be cut to 14% effective then.

This big tax overhaul is expected to mean an average cut of almost 20% in the tax bill of almost all individual taxpayers.

Johnson and his fiscal experts are counting on the taxpayers to use this as new purchasing power to push the total national output up $30 billion over the next two years.

Confident

The administration is confident this will have a short-run effect of preventing any business slump in this election year. But they also say it should make a start toward solving two long-run problems — an unsatisfactory national growth rate and an unemployment level that has hovered stubbornly around 5½%.

The Senate, in its week of voting, balked at efforts to write into the bill repeal of excise taxes on such things as jewelry, handbags, cosmetics, furs, theater tickets, cabarets and roof gardens, pens and mechanical pencils, and repaired auto parts.

Also turned down were efforts to give a bigger tax break to parents with children in college, working students, the blind, low income families and unmarried taxpayers over 35. Rejected too was the 27½% oil and gas depletion allowance.

A government spokesman charged Turkish Cyripti riflemen sniped at a police-escorted party of Greek workmen sent to investigate the failure of a water pumping station serving Kyrenia. By his account, the Greeks withheld fire and retreated without casualties.

Armored Cars

Four British armored cars took up positions at the battle-scarred Turkish hamlet of Ayios Sozomenos to ensure no resumption of the fighting between Greek and Turkish Cypriots which cost the lives of 11 men in that area south of Nicosia Thursday.

Turkish survivors begged the patrol to move them to a larger Turkish settlement, Louroujina. They said the Greek Cypriots would return and wipe them out if they stayed.

But the British com-tains near the port of Kyrenia, 25 miles north of Nicosia, reflected continued tension between Greek Cypriots and the island's minority of Turkish blood.

A government spokesman charged Turkish Cyripti riflemen sniped at a police-escorted party of Greek workmen sent to investigate the failure of a water pumping station serving Kyrenia. By his account, the Greeks withheld fire and retreated without casualties.

Not Indifferent

He advised President Johnson and others to let the case be handled by the U.N. Security Council and by Cyprus itself, then added:

"In making this appeal, which is dictated by concern for the preservation and consolidation of peace and for guaranteeing the rights of peoples, I proceed from the fact that the Soviet Union, although it does not border directly on the Republic of Cyprus, cannot remain indifferent to that situation which is developing in the area of the eastern Mediterranean area not so distant from the southern borders of the U.S.S.R., especially if one considers how the notion of distances has changed in our time."

He said these "several powers . . . even represent the matter as if it were possible to bring to Cyprus a solution of these internal problems only on foreign bases."

The biggest revenue change in the bill voted by the Senate as compared with the House was to continue to allow state gasoline taxes, auto tags and drivers' licenses to be deducted by those who use itemized deductions on their returns.

The House bill would eliminate these deductions. This Senate amendment would cost the Treasury $330 million of annual revenue as compared to the House measure.

Rejected Cut

Another major Senate amendment was to strike out the cut in capital gains rates voted by the House on assets held longer than two years.

Hung Jury In Beckwith Trial

Jackson, Miss. (AP) — The trial of Byron De La Beckwith, 43, a crusading segregationist charged with murdering a Negro civil rights leader, ended with a hung jury Friday.

Circuit Court Judge Leon F. Hendrick declared the surprise mistrial after polling the jurors individually as to whether they thought there was any chance of a verdict.

The emphatic replies ranged from "not a chance" to "not if we stay there a week." The all-white jury had deliberated about 11 hours.

In Custody

The silver-haired judge told the jurors not to discuss the case, warned spectators against any demonstration and remanded Beckwith to the custody of the sheriff.

The dapper fertilizer salesman from Greenwood, Miss., had listened to the polling of the jury with strained attention, hands clasped in his lap.

Hardy Lott of Greenwood, chief defense attorney, said Beckwith told him, "Let's get another trial as soon as possible."

2 or 3 Days

Lott said he would file a motion "within two or three days" that Beckwith be freed on bond pending retrial. The date for the new trial will be set March 23, he added.

The mistrial astonished many in this segregation stronghold. There had been frequent predictions of quick acquittal due to the touchy racial aspects of the case.

Dist. Atty. William L. Walker prosecuted the case vigorously with a big assist from his young assistant, John Fox, and a solid, professional job of investigation from the Jackson police.

Beckwith was accused of lying in ambush and shooting Medgar Evers in the back with a high powered rifle. Evers was state field secretary for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

'Kill A Cause'

The state said Beckwith, who describes himself as an arch-segregationist and an ultra-conservative, was trying to "kill a cause" when he shot the integration leader.

The defense termed the state case fantastic. Beckwith was called to testify that his 30.06 Enfield rifle, which police say been used in the slaying, had been stolen the day before the shooting.

No Comment

In Jackson, Mrs. Evers, widow of the slain leader, declined comment.

"Actually, I did have a prepared statement but not for a mistrial," she added. "I'll have to wait until another trial takes place . . ."

MRS. OSWALD . . . Warren like grandfather.

Wife Says Oswald's Conduct Was Abnormal After Walker Incident

Washington (AP) — Low-voiced Marina Oswald, convinced that her husband assassinated President John F. Kennedy, said Friday that she recognized an abnormality in his conduct after he shot at Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker last April.

She did not tell Dallas police of his sniper attack on Walker — an act which might have saved Kennedy's life, she said.

"Because I am wife."

The 22-year-old widow of Lee Harvey Oswald answered in uncertain English the questions of a small group of newsmen after a night's rest from her secret, four-day interrogation by the presidential investigating commission headed by Chief Justice Earl Warren.

'Practiced'

She said her husband sometimes practiced with his rifle in the months preceding the Nov. 22 assassination. But her lawyer, John M. Thorne, said later that she had not fully understood the word "practiced."

The Russian-born Mrs. Oswald never saw Oswald go to a target range, Thorne said, but had seen him sighting, aiming, cleaning and adjusting the Italian-made carbine he bought by mail last March.

When asked if she felt the Warren commission treated her fairly, she asked for a translation of "fairly." Thorne explained that the questioner wanted to know whether she liked Warren and the others.

Brings Smile

Warren's name brought a radiant smile.

"Oh yes," she said. "Just like my grandfather."

But the slim, wide-eyed woman said she did not want to talk to Oswald's mother, Mrs. Marguerite Oswald of Fort Worth, who insists the accusation that her son killed Kennedy is a "trumped-up charge." The mother will be heard by the Warren commission on Monday.

As for why she prefers to avoid her 56-year-old mother-in-law who repeatedly asserts that, "no one saw Lee fire the shots," the young Mrs. Oswald said:

"It is too much bad for me."

Didn't Know..

She said she did not know why Oswald fired, as she is convinced that he did, the shots that killed the President and wounded Gov. John Connally of Texas.

Oswald never had spoken against Kennedy to her, she said, and she did not know whether he might have been aiming at Connally.

When the President was dead and Oswald captured, she said, she was "sorry" for Oswald but, in the light of the circumstances and her own knowledge, was convinced he was the assassin.

A reporter asked whether Oswald, who had been discharged from the U.S. Marines as undesirable, was "an angry, a violent man."

"He was a normal man," she said.

Not Normal

"Did you feel that it was normal to shoot at Gen. Walker?"

"That was not normal, to shoot at anybody."

She said Oswald was a normal American when she met him in Russia, where he had gone in 1959 and unsuccessful in this segregation stronghold. There had been frequent predictions of quick acquittal due to the touchy racial aspects of the case.

Red Terrorists Hit Saigon Bar, Slay 5

Saigon, Viet Nam (AP) — The worst terrorist blast in Saigon in more than a year killed five Vietnamese Friday. Six U.S. servicemen were wounded, apparently none of them seriously.

Witnesses said a bar girl was blown to bits by the huge blast that tore apart a bar called the Playboy. Three men and a boy were killed outright. Police did not identify the fifth victim.

Twenty Vietnamese were hospitalized. Original reports said the blast, attributed to Communists, had wounded 39 persons.

It was reported the six Americans — three soldiers and three sailors — were released from a hospital after treatment. Their identities were withheld. The Playboy was on a street behind a big hotel for U.S. enlisted men.

There was no trace of anyone who might have planted the bomb. Police speculated the bomb may have been left at the bar attached to a bicycle.

The bombing was one in a series of attacks on American installations and Vietnamese establishments popular among Americans in Viet Nam aiding in a war against the Communist Viet Cong. A U.S. Air Force demolitions expert was killed while trying to disarm a bomb found at another Saigon bar last weekend.

In the warfare afield five strategic hamlets seized by a 500-man Communist battalion Thursday are back, battered and burned, under government control. Vietnamese troops occupied them uneventfully. The Reds had departed, unhindered, in the night.

A U.S. military spokesman denounced the guerrillas for keeping 4,000 civilians penned up with them during government shelling, bombing and ineffective ground assaults to recover the group of hamlets, 40 miles northwest of Saigon. He called such use of hostages reprehensible.

An undisclosed number of civilians were found dead and others wounded from the counterattack, which set fire to flimsy thatched homes and storehouses.

Despite the size of the operation, casualties among combatants seemed small.

American officers were puzzled by the fact Vietnamese army activity virtually stopped at dusk Thursday, after six companies were struck out before the Communist positions.

Notasulga Mayor Says Schools Will Be Opened

Notasulga, Ala. (UPI) — Mayor James (Kayo) Rea announced Friday that schools will reopen here Monday and that any troublemakers who attempt to interfere in the desegregation crisis will be punished.

They would have gotten back to Tuskegee," the nearby town from which they were transferred.

Packed Canes

A crowd of about 50 cane-swinging whites gathered outside the school Wednesday, trying to smash cameras and harrassing newsmen covering the event. One white photographer was roughed up by local police who found him aboard the bus that brought the Negroes to the school.

"I believe we have the situation well under control now," Rea said. "We will stay right on top of the situation and anyone causing trouble will be dealt with."

Rea originally said he turned the Negroes away because the school already was overcrowded and that to admit them would put local authorities in violation of fire and safety codes.

Friday he said he also thought the lives of the Negro pupils would have been endangered.

Closed

Rea closed all three of the town's school the same night of the integration attempt after a fire crippled the local water plant. He said he expected service to be completely restored by Monday.

In Washington, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy said the next step in the Notasulga integration dispute is up to the federal courts to decide.

"I hope the matter in Alabama will be resolved by Alabamians," he said.

The 32-year-old mayor said state troopers again would seal off the high school Monday. "The situation remains the same for them," he said.

Rea explained when classroom work resumes at Macon High School the Negroes still would be barred under the safety and fire inspection law. He said no more pupils could be enrolled without exceeding the maximum attendance fixed under the ordinance.

But Rea has made clear he will obey any federal court orders concerning integration.

THE BEATLES . . . meet press in N.Y.

Invaders

New York (AP) — Britain's way out Beatles, equipped with rag mop hairdos and guitars, invaded the Colonies Friday. Thousands of delirious teen-aged native girls paid them wild tribal homage when they landed at Kennedy airport.

"I love them, I love them," shrieked one junior miss, teetering on the verge of emotional collapse.

A singing quartet of British youth, the Beatles are the rage—or rather "fab" for fabulosity—on the tight little isle, and their fame has spread to America via best selling recordings. Now they are here in person for a series of sold-out public appearances.

The Beatles collectively are sort of a sheep dog version of Elvis Presley—the adulation they arouse is reminiscent of the grip the American star once held on the juvenile population.

But accustomed as they are to the weird worship rites attending their every appearance, the Beatles were shocked into momentary immobility as they left their

Cold Siege By Peeress Stalls Work

London (AP) — Lady Newborough stretched her noble but cold-numbed limbs Friday, had a sip of champagne for breakfast and dug in again for the siege of Shepherd's Market.

It had been a bitter night in her little antique silver kiosk on a Mayfield sidewalk. The temperature dropped to four below freezing. But the 50-year-old peeress was still in command of her fort.

And demolition men or no demolition men Denis Newborough will be there until Monday night, she said.

Yugoslav-born Denis is the widow of the 5th Baron Newborough. His family motto is "gentle in manner, vigorous in action," and when Denis married the baron, she espoused him motto and all.

The siege of her silver stall began Wednesday when workers arrived to pull down the shaky front wall of a building recently damaged by fire.

Unfortunately for them and their plans, the wall forms one side of the Newborough silver stall and the lady wasn't about to move.

"I rented this stall 10 months ago and the rent is paid through Monday," she said. "Nothing will move until then."

"I have thousands of pounds of rare silver here. It has all been sold and the customers will be calling for it during the next few days. Until the rent is up everything stays right here — including me."

The demolition men appealed to the police. The police talked it over with Lady Newborough and concluded that she was within her rights.

Just to make sure the demolition men didn't knock the wall down during the night, Lady Newborough bedded down in the stall.

"My feet got a bit cold on the stone floor," she said, "but here I am and here I stay. I am a woman of principle."

Issue Settled Long Ago

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

There are a few around who disprove, but it was determined a good many years ago that this part of America shall be a nation of united states. Consequently, we have a federal system of government with specific responsibilities and divided into three distinct areas. We have, too, a system of government among the states and certain things that are considered the responsibility of the states.

But there are those who believe that the federal government has too many responsibilities and too much authority while the states are too limited. Thus, we have such groups as the newly organized Commission on Constitutional Government. While perhaps a well-meaning group, it would seek to so change the structure and processes of government that we would return to a loose confederation of states. Such groups are generally found to have two targets, the federal Constitution and the federal judiciary. The Constitution they want to change and the judiciary they want to limit or eliminate.

For one thing, they seek to amend the Constitution so that it can be changed by action of the states alone. Currently, the states can change the Constitution only with the approval of Congress. As things now stand, it takes both Congress and the states to make a change, neither being able to do the job alone.

To permit amendment of the Constitution by initiative action of the states alone would be open invitation to chaos as well as a substantial weakening of our federal government. With no need for the approval of Congress, there would spring up an endless number of proposals from the states for changing the federal Constitution and there would be no federal voice to be heard in the matter.

Two matters pertaining to the federal judiciary are usually associated with the above proposed change in procedure for amending the Constitution. One of these calls for a constitutional prohibition against federal court jurisdiction in state reapportionment matters. This is obviously an attack against the individual freedoms guaranteed all of us in the Constitution but it is generally sold as just the opposite. It is sold as being a return to power to the states and, thus, a return of power to the individual. The theory is that the state is closer to the individual than the federal government so that any thing reserved for the states is closer to the people.

All Quiet This Time

Well, apparently nothing is more dead than yesterday's issue.

The other day the Federal Power Commission by a 3 to 2 vote said the privately owned Pacific Northwest Power Co., should build and operate the proposed $200 million High Mountain Sheep dam on the Snake River. It voted that way after it had voted 5 to 0 against federal development of the site. In giving the nod to the private group the hopes of the 16 agency Washington Public Power Supply System were dashed.

The millpond of the new dam will extend 58 miles up the Snake River, close to the point where the now completed Hells Canyon dam is operating.

This time the canyon did not reverberate with controversy although there is as great a reason for it as formerly.

'Quick-Draw' Goldwater

Once again, Sen. Barry Goldwater has demonstrated an impatience and a belligerence that make him a questionable candidate for the presidency of the United States. The Arizona Republican had an immediate solution to the Cuban water problem—a quick draw. His answer is to march in the Marines and turn on the water that Castro has turned off, returning Cuban service to our Guantanamo naval base.

Many seriously doubt that the bearded Castro's action is sufficient cause for marching in of Marines and risking an armed confrontation with Russia. Is the water question worth the risk of nuclear war that would be a part of any armed conflict between the United States and Russia? This is hardly the kind of cause the average American would say was worth dying for.

Even if nothing happened by a successful return of water service, many U.S. Marines would die in any invasion of Cuba. Is the life of an American Marine not worth a little more than this? There are circumstances in which a contingency of Marines and perhaps the full military power of this nation would constitute an obvious answer but the Guantanamo water supply is not currently such a circumstance.

This base itself cannot be surrendered but we cannot march in the Marines any place throughout the world when an action displeases us. If we could, we would be in every single corner of the world today and would long since either have whipped the entire world or gone down to defeat ourselves. Goldwater's reaction to every crisis is too quick and too violent. The law of the jungle is not yet the law by which all mankind has decided to live.

The New Maritime Menace

From The Wall Street Journal

Things seem to go from bad to worse for the nation's merchant marine. Now the industry is threatened with a return of competition.

That, at least, seems to be the burden of a protest filed with the Government the other day by 13 U.S.-flag steamship lines.

Law Says Dock Absentee Solons

WASHINGTON — It isn't mentioned around Capitol Hill, but quite a few members of Congress owe money to the U.S. Treasury. It's doubtful, however, whether the taxpayers will ever be able to collect.

Reason for their indebtedness is that many congressmen were paid illegally under a law passed in 1856 and never repealed. The law, which pertains both to senators and members of the House of Representatives, states specifically that neither shall be paid for time absent from their work, unless on official leave, ill, or absent because of family illness.

Congress quite rightly expects every law it passes to be enforced and respected by the American people. If a citizen fails to answer a congressional subpoena he can be clapped into jail. Many congressmen are ready to make stormy speeches if there is a whisper of law violation or avoidance by the executive branch of government.

However, the chairman of the Republican National Committee, Rep. Bill Miller of New York, owes Uncle Sam around 51 per cent of his salary for last year because he missed 51 per cent of House roll calls, and no effort has been made to collect it.

On the Democratic side, the amount owed Uncle Sam is worse. Rep. Charles Buckley, the Mr. Big of Democrats in the Bronx, owes the treasury around 67 per cent of his salary for 1963, having missed 67 per cent of House roll calls.

* * *

Other Democrats who owe money to the taxpayers under the 1856 law are Sen. Ed Long, D-Mo., who missed 46 per cent of Senate roll calls; George Smathers, the Florida real estate dabbler, who missed 35 percent; and Adam Clayton Powell, the Harlem globetrotter who also missed 35 per cent. Only a small fraction of their absences were permissible under the law, and no effort is being made to collect.

On Aug. 16, 1856, when the absentee law was passed, the House and Senate voted to deduct from the monthly payment of members . . . the amount of his compensation for each day that such member shall be absent from the House or Senate unless (he) shall assign as the reason for such absence the sickness of himself or of some member of his family."

Those absent, including some top Democrats, owe the sergeant-at-arms at the rate of about $70 a day for their truancy.

"And be it further enacted, that it shall be the duty of the sergeant-at-arms of the House and the secretary of the Senate . . . to deduct from the monthly payment of members . . . the amount of his compensation for each day that such member shall be absent from the House or Senate unless (he) shall assign as the reason for such absence the sickness of himself or of some member of his family."

Cuba Gives Johnson First Red Problem

WASHINGTON—With the new Cuban crisis President Johnson is obliged to shift from congressional politics to presidential politics. He knows they will always look up when their security seems menaced by a single act or when they feel other countries have affronted their dignity. But what he wants is a day-by-day partnership more like their interest in domestic affairs.

The Cuban water supply was recognized long ago as a potential hazard to that big and vital naval base. The first soothing word to Congress is that the Defense Department is prepared to handle it.

N nonetheless Castro's tampering with it is a challenge of sorts to the Johnson diplomatic and military policy. It is less in degree by far than that posed to the late President Kennedy by Cuban-based Russian missiles and the State Department suggests that it is mere mischief.

It could be only a probing operation designed to help Castro and the Kremlin discover what manner of man the new President is without running any serious risk. All either of them really knows at this point about Lyndon Johnson is what they read in the newspapers and maybe they are impudent.

How come? Well, it seems that many shipping rates are set by shipping "conferences"—a euphonious word for cartel. These groups, for a variety of reasons, set lower rates on certain runs. And now that the Commission is nosing around into this is done, some of the foreign members of the conferences are threatening to withdraw. Such a development, warn the U.S. ship lines, could hasten a return to "cut-throat competition" that would jeopardize this nation's merchant marine.

As a remedy, the industry wants Washington to set up a new industry-Government committee. This committee then would proceed to investigate the Commission's investigators. However silly that may sound, it's typical of the way that many in the industry approach their troubles.

The President has already

One Son Tells Everything; The Other Reveals Nothing

By ROBERT PETERSON

Q. "Isn't it normal for parents to be curious about how their children are doing? Our older son tells us everything—what his take-home pay is, how much he spends on groceries, what he owes on his car. But the younger son clams up at the mention of money. He's reasonably kind and supports his family, but he won't even tell us how much he makes."

A. We're all built differently—some enjoy discussing their finances, and others prefer to keep it to themselves. Your sons are adults now and as long as they're successful and considerate you should thank your lucky stars and quell your curiosity about their finances.

Q. "We have a son who is normally very sensible. But he fools around with the stock market and he's going to get burned. I know the market can be very enticing. I put everything I had into it in 1928 and lost it all in 1929. When I try to warn him he just smiles and says, 'I know what I'm doing.' What more can I say?"

A. We all have to learn by experience and few young people are willing to abide by their parents'—or anyone else's—judgment. You have spoken your piece and it's up to your son now.

Q. "Don't you agree that men adjust to old age better than women?"

A. No. It's popular to assume that women regret age more than men, but it seems to be otherwise as seen by the greater number of suicides among older men than older women. The usual explanation is that women have better chances of keeping occupied. No matter how old they get women generally have a string of household chores, including cooking, cleaning, laundering, and sewing. Their retired husbands, however, may have nothing to do.

A. Stop worrying. There's no particular merit in looking younger than you are. You may think you look years younger than your sister, but you're probably kidding yourself. It's important for proper psychological adjustment that we take pride and pleasure in our age. When we conceal it or lie about it we are in effect telling ourselves we're ashamed of our age—and this can have serious psychological repercussions.

Q. "What can I do about a sister who constantly reminds me of my age? We're twins born 55 years ago. I look a dozen years younger, however, and see no reason to let anyone know I'm more than 40. But my sister delights in telling folks we're twins, adding, 'we'll never see 50 again.' Do you blame me for getting furious?"

A. About 14% — or one in every eight elders. This aid is given jointly by the states and Uncle Sam to elders whose income is found by social workers to be inadequate for the individual to live properly. For details, contact the Department of Public Welfare in your community.

Justice Carter Issues Dissent To Language In Previous Time Sales Ruling

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

State Supreme Court Justice Edward F. Carter Friday issued a dissent to the language of a previous court ruling which had appeared to kill the time-sale doctrine in Nebraska.

The language to which Carter objected stated: "Where a time-sale price is determined by applying a certain schedule of rates or charges to the cash price, the resulting product is interest."

That, Carter wrote, "is not a correct statement of the law."

The correct rule in a transaction of this kind, Carter said, is "that the court will look through its form and if it finds from all the facts and circumstances that the transaction is in fact a device or artifice to escape the penalties of usury, the contract will be held to be usurious."

At issue was the majority opinion in the October 18, 1963 decision in a landmark Lancaster County case cited as Lloyd v. Gutgesell.

At the time, language in the decision was interpreted to sound the death knell for the time-sales doctrine as it has actually been practiced in Nebraska.

In a concurring opinion last October, Justice Leslie Boslaugh had appeared to raise the same point which Carter addressed himself to Friday. Boslaugh wrote:

"The majority opinion states that if a time price is determined by applying a schedule of rates or charges to the cash price, the difference is necessarily interest. This statement is contrary to what the previous opinions of this court have declared to be the law."

At the time, Boslaugh wrote that he concurred with the decision, "although I do not agree with all of the statements which are contained in the opinion of the court."

Justice Robert C. Brower also pointed out in October: "To my mind, however, this is a new rule of law in conflict with our previous holdings."

Carter employed a dissenting opinion to the court's decision overruling a motion for rehearing in the case to express his views.

Carter wrote that he is "in full accord" with the court's conclusions in the case at issue, but wished to dissent in order to clarify the previous language, to submit a "correction of error."

He continued:

"If the statement in Paragraph 7 of the syllabus and the identical statement contained in the opinion is to be given its literal meaning, a serious departure from our previous holdings has taken place without overruling or even criticizing our previous decisions."

"The difficulty will arise in future cases of this nature when the court finds after looking through the form that the schedule of rates or charges is not, in fact, interest in excess of 9%."

"A holding of this court based solely on the language of Paragraph 7 of the syllabus might raise serious questions involving the impairment of the obligation of contract clauses of the state and federal constitutions."

If the effect of the language is to hold that any time-sale price is void if arrived at by a fixed schedule of rates or charges, Carter wrote, "we have impaired the validity of time-sale contracts where the rates and charges are not, in fact, interest in excess of 9%."

If a transaction is a bona fide time sale, "the use of a schedule of charges does not per se make it usurious," Carter stated.

"A schedule of rates and charges added to a cash price must be examined, together with all the circumstances of the case, to determine whether or not the transaction is, in fact, usurious."

Carter authored the celebrated decision last June which tossed out the 1961 installment sales act and the October decision which kayed the 1963 act.

A Valentine Apron

Patricia Scott

2-7

BARK

Whether you give a large party for Valentine's Day or just have a small intimate dinner for your husband or beau, a pretty touch to bring out the mood of the occasion is a frilly apron in the shape of a heart. This one is made of linen, organdy and satin—a very feminine combination of fabrics.

You'll Need: $\frac{1}{2}$ yard of red linen 36 inches wide; $\frac{1}{4}$ yard of white organdy; $\frac{1}{2}$ yards of red satin ribbon for ties the width of the buttonholes you make.

To Cut:

- Cut a sheet of paper 18 inches square. Draw lines across and down forming 81 two-inch squares. Just make dots at two-inch intervals on all four sides and join the dots.
- Make two buttonholes about $\frac{1}{2}$ inches below top edge of heart or wherever you want it to hit your waistline. Make buttonholes so they stand up and down as illustrated in finished apron sketch.

Thread satin ribbon through one buttonhole starting from underside of apron, running it across front on the right side and then through other button hole to underside again.

To Make:

- Cut out paper heart. Now, fold linen piece in half, so the selvages meet. Cut along fold. You now have two pieces each measuring 18" X 18".
- Pin linen to pattern and cut. Be careful to cut on the straight of the grain.
- Place linen right sides together and stitch all around, leaving a small opening to turn.
- Clip curves and turn to right side. Slip-stitch opening closed and press.

5. Cut six strips of organdy, each $1\frac{1}{2}$ " X 36". Join them to make one long strip and press all seams.

Wedding On Friday

The chancel of Trinity Methodist Church was lighted by white candles and appointed with pedestal bouquets of gold-toned gladioli on Friday evening, Feb. 7, for the wedding of Miss Raydean Olson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Olson, and Phillip Beck, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Beck of York. The ceremony was solemnized by the Rev. Paul Sisler.

Wearing sheaths of gold-toned delustered satin with flaring overskirts, and carrying cascade arrangements of gold-flecked white carnations were Mrs. Roger Brown of Omaha, who was her sister's matron of honor; and the bridesmaids, Miss Karen Wingate, Miss Marty Voorhees, Miss Glenda Jenkins and Mrs. Tom Pospisil.

Jerry Radcliff of York served as best man, and seating the guests were Roger Brown, Omaha; Tom Beck and Rob Riggert, Seward; Tom Pospisil, Larry Vincent, and Dick Engberg.

White silk bombazine and Chantilly lace fashioned the bride's colonial gown. The lace basque was designed with long sleeves and a sabrina neckline, and the extremely full skirt of silk was caught up at the hem to reveal two deep flounces of the lace which brushed the floor at the back. Her silk illusion veil was held by a crown of lace and pearls, and she carried a white Bible clustered with yellow roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Beck will reside in Lincoln, where the bridegroom, a member of Beta Sigma Psi fraternity and Kappa Psi pharmaceutical honorary, is a student at the University of Nebraska.

Betrothal

Announcement has been made of the betrothal of Miss Gladys Naomi Mullins to Larry Ray Weibel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Raymond Weibel of Spring Valley, Calif., by the bride-elect's mother, Mrs. Opa L. Mullins of Seward.

The wedding will take place on April 4.

The Suburban Calender Well Filled

HOLLYWOOD HEIGHTS

It seems as though through the passing of time, that traditions and once accustomed social standards change—especially in "windy" Nebraska.

In the not so distant past, it was socially unacceptable for women to appear in public wearing a scarf. We wonder, however, just how long this particular custom would last if it returned to Nebraska during one of our mild "prairie winds."

Emily Post might frown upon our chapeaux but we feel that she could do no less than approve when it comes to social life in the suburban areas.

Hollywood Heights residents who will be departing Lincoln for warmer climates in the very near future are Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Allin and their three children, Leslie, David and Mark.

They will begin their move to Hawaii around Feb. 21, when they will drive to Independence, Mo., to visit with Mr. Allin's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Allin and Mrs. Allin's mother, Mrs. T. A. Hudler. From Independence they will fly to Los Angeles where they will visit with Mrs. Allin's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Bill A. Hudler, and from where they will depart for Hawaii and their new home.

Mr. and Mrs. John Tryszcsyla and their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Harvey Bennett, spent last weekend in Fort Crook attending an open house in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Tryszcsyla's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Novak who were celebrating their Golden Wedding anniversary.

Present for the celebration were Mrs. Tryszcsyla's three brothers and sisters who had not all been together for 25 years. They included John Novak of Hayward, Calif., Mr. and Mrs. Ted Novak of Denver, Colo.; Mr. and Mrs. Leo Novak of Fort Crook.

Mrs. Stella Lukowski of Glenwood, Iowa; Mrs. Ann Campbell of Newport News, Va.; and Mrs. Helen Egan of Glendale, Calif.

Mrs. W. Paul Killion, Mrs. C. E. Mutchmore, Mrs. Harry T. Conklin, and Mrs. R. Howard were the guests last Friday evening at the home of Miss Cynthia Payne, Miss Lula Payne and Mrs. R. E. Brinkuff. During the evening, slides were shown of the trio's European and Mexican tours which they completed earlier in the fall.

EASTBOROUGH

A recent houseguest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Don E. Mitchell and their sons, Phillip and Neil, was Mrs. Mitchell's aunt, Mrs. Pauline Hegstrom of Sioux Falls, S.D.

Mrs. Hegstrom and Julie will be in Lincoln until Sunday when they will return to South Dakota.

EASTMONT

A bridge hostess in the Eastmont area on Thursday evening was Mrs. Marvin Haase.

Her guests for the evening of cards were Mrs. Ernest Fields, Mrs. Dale Broekemier, Mrs. Dwayne Larson, Mrs. Don Hamilton, Mr. Merrill Rose, Mrs. Don Huff and Mrs. Jim Kamas.

Morning Wedding

At a double ring ceremony on Friday morning, Jan. 24, Miss E. Ellen Smith, daughter of Sgt. and Mrs. Clarence E. Smith of Gwinn, Mich., became the bride of A. C. Thomas S. Alvord, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Stuart Alvord of Beatrice. The lines of the service were read by the Rev. Charles Reinhart at St. Anthony's Church in Gwinn.

The maid of honor and bride's only attendant was Miss Bernadette Filizetti of Gwinn.

A. C. William Woolley of Sawyer Air Force Base, Mich., served as best man, and serving the altar was Donald Alvord of Beatrice, brother of the bridegroom.

The bride chose white lace and tulle over taffeta for her gown, which was fashioned in the daytime length. The long-sleeved bodice of lace was accented by a bateau neckline, and the skirt of tulle-over-taffeta was shirred into fullness. A queen's crown of pearls held her

Dear Abby

Happiness Defined

Abigail Van Buren

"DEAR ABBY: I have just celebrated my 16th birthday, and I would like to tell that 15-year-old what HAPPINESS means to me.

"HAPPINESS is no longer having to roam the streets of Seoul, begging for food, sleeping in doorways and under bridges, or being cold, hungry or dirty. HAPPINESS is having an American believe in me enough to take me in, give me my first real meal in years, buy me my first pair of socks, and leather shoes, and underwear, and give me a bed where I could sleep between sheets, let me see my first TV, and give me the first security I have ever known. HAPPINESS means being adopted, and coming to the United States. HAPPINESS is the opportunity to attend school again for the first time after three years. HAPPINESS is becoming an American citizen and making my parents proud of me."

This is what our son has told us many times, Abby. When we brought him to this country only 32 months ago, he could not speak, read or write English. Today he is a First Class Boy Scout, a De Molay, a straight "A" student, president of his class, and a member of the Honor Society. HAPPINESS for us is having a son like this.

We doubt that this letter is worthy of publication, but we couldn't resist writing it. Sincerely yours,

MAJOR AND MRS. R. W. M. COLORADO SPRINGS, COLORADO

HEAR THESE WORDS

Worship In Church Every Week

THE VERDICT

Have you been in court? Have you witnessed a man on trial for his life? That is a serious thing. Yet, every one of us is in that category...on trial before God every day, every hour. Brilliant attorneys may hang earthly juries and sway human judges but brother, it won't be that way with God.

His is really the "court of last resort." There we shall stand naked before Him. He alone will decide our case and pronounce, with poise, the verdict. That, too, is serious. But we have had ample opportunity and have been warned many times. The church steeple on the corner points the way and His word on the pulpit tells us how to get there. When we come before His court, and we shall, the book will be opened...our eternal destiny known...and He will read the verdict.

YOU IN THE CHURCH THE CHURCH IN YOU

Character is a by-product of the church. It is here that young and old alike are showered with benedictions that fortify and influence for a better citizenship and a stronger democracy. In the church the ministerial are molding religious character. Statesmen today declare that the church alone can furnish leadership to handle the affairs of state in these perilous times. Then we with our children should go to the church of our choice on Sunday. "You in the Church and the Church in you" form a combination for good. Be a regular CHURCH GOER and a daily BIBLE READER.

HUSKER-COWBOY DUAL—

Record Blitz Likely Today

By HAL BROWN
Star Sports Editor

A new edition of Oklahoma State-Nebraska dual meet records may have to be printed after the Cowboys and Huskers get together this afternoon at the NU East Stadium indoor track.

OSU and NU athletes already have equalled or bettered in practice six of the meet records. Field events are slated for 2 p.m. with running events getting under way at 2:30.

Records facing serious threats to their continued existence are the 60-yard dash, 440-yard dash, 880-yard run, 60-yard high hurdles, high jump and mile relay with the latter event a near cinch to fall unless the meet is canceled.

Relay Times Down

Mile relay teams from both schools have record times well under the 3:29.1 record set by Nebraska's George O'Boyle, Jim Murphy, Dick Strand and Bill Kenny a year ago.

This year's Husker mile quartet of Dave Crook, Kent McCloskey, Strand and Gil Gebo posted a nifty 3:23.8 in a practice session a week ago. But the Cowboys can throw a 3:16.1 clocking into the bidding.

Jack Miller, Ray Bothwell, Dave and John Perry spun the mile in that time recently in the New Mexico Invitational for Oklahoma State.

Crook In 440

Crook, a Husker sophomore, has been timed in 50.1 for the 440, slightly under the 50.7 record held by Tom Harlan of OSU since the 1961 meeting.

Both the Huskers and Cowboys have entries in the 880 and high jump who are capable of sub-record performances.

Nebraska's Jack Crammer has gone 6-7 in the high jump

OU Brings Worst Mark To Lincoln

Oklahoma coach Bob Stevens brings his racing band of Sooners to Nebraska's Coliseum tonight for an 8:05 encounter with the Huskers.

The Sooners, who forgot about defense most of the time in their efforts get a fast-break offense moving, bring the worst record in the league to Lincoln tonight and have lost six straight games since opening the conference race with a win over Kansas.

OU currently is imbedded in the league cellar with a 1-6 mark and own a 5-12 season record. Only the Huskers have a worse overall record among loop teams.

Nebraska in 4-12 for the season, but the Huskers have come up with a surprising 2-3 mark in the Big Eight.

The Huskers, by winning tonight, could move into a tie for fourth place if Missouri loses to co-leader Oklahoma State in their battle at Columbia.

But a loss could drop NU into seventh if Iowa State gets by a Kansas club that has been weakened by graduation and scholastic ineligibility.

Nebraska will be playing the Sooners without the services of Joel Kortus, one of the key weapons in the Huskers surge early in the Big Eight race.

Kortus suffered a knee injury early in the Kansas State contest Monday night.

the end zone and over the cinder track circling the field, according to NU Business Manager Carl Donaldson.

Donaldson declined to give cost estimates or discuss financing arrangements for the construction which would bring the permanent seating capacity of Memorial Stadium up to 43,000, not including the temporary bleacher seats at the north end of the field.

Donaldson said that engineering studies should be completed within two or three weeks, and that authorization for bidding on the project will then be asked.

The new portion, according to Donaldson, will be of permanent concrete construction, and built over the cinder track area—bringing the seating as close as possible to the playing field.

However, the portion that would cover the track area same as the east and west stadium stands not including the balconies.

Donaldson called the new seating plan "very satisfactory" because it offered seats of regular stadium size which are expected to be sold on a reserve seat basis by the athletic department.

He also noted that access to the South Stadium would be from the raised practice field, which would mean less stair-climbing for the fans.

Although he did not detail the methods of removing the concrete seating from the cinder track, Donaldson said the matter had been checked and found satisfactory by track coach Frank Sevigne.

Donaldson said the bleacher seats at the north end of the playing field will remain, but if they were ever replaced by a structure similar to the proposed new construction at the south, Memorial Stadium seating capacity would be increased to 55,000 permanent seats.

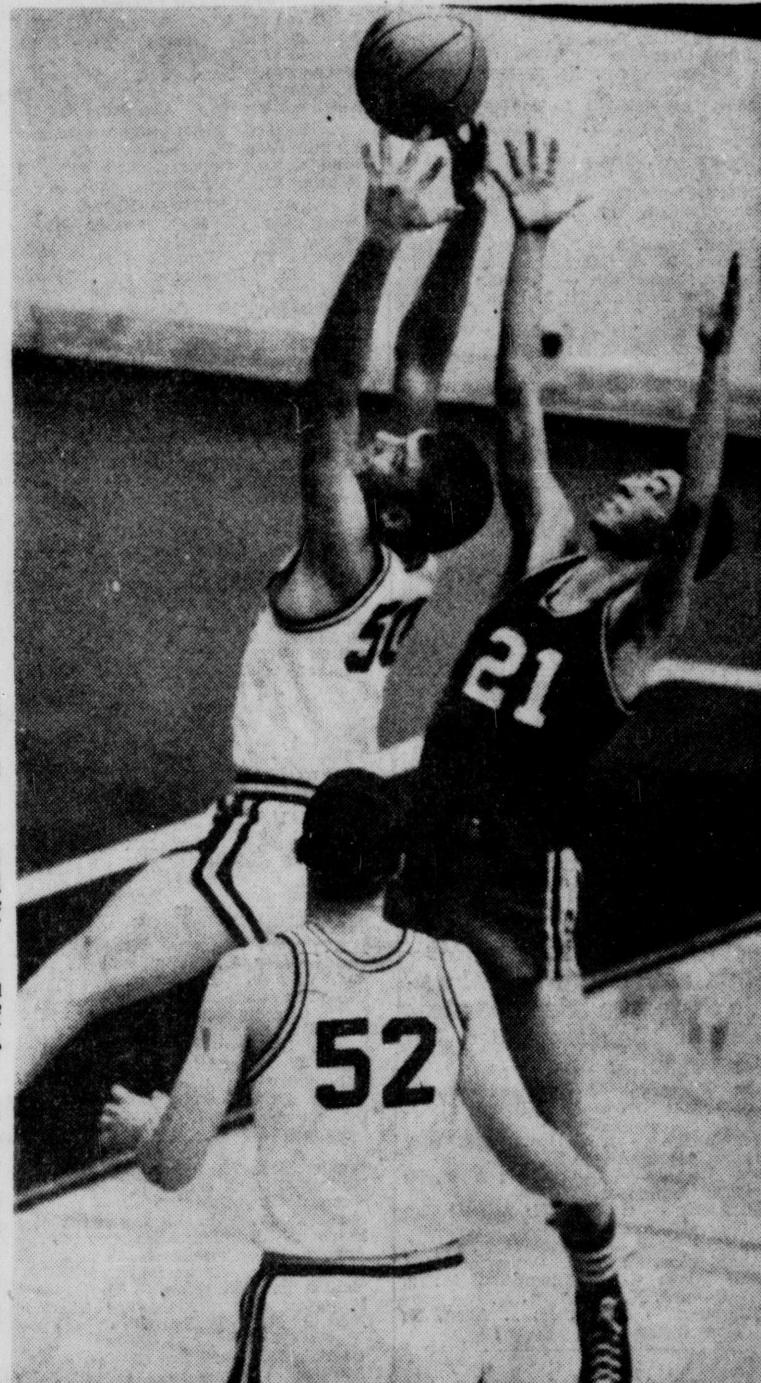

No action was taken by the Regents regarding increasing the price of football tickets. There was some speculation stadium seats would be upped from $4 to $5. The ticket price matter is expected to be discussed at some later date.

—CHURCHILL, WICKHAM LEAD SCORING—

Pius' Fast Break, Press Stun Biship Ryan, 90-68

By DON SUMMERSIDE
Star Sports Writer

Fast-breaking Lincoln Pius X, bolstered by the 23-point productions of Dayle Churchill and Chris Wickham, completely outclassed Omaha Bishop Ryan's young squad Friday night, 90-68.

The issue was never in doubt after the first minute and a half of action at the Pius gym. Badly rattled by the Thunderbolts' pressing tactics, the Knights were hopelessly behind, 29-11, after the first quarter stop. Coach Lane Birkel's crew built up leads as great as 31 points before the bench was emptied late in the second half.

Personal fouls helped put Bishop Ryan in a hole early in the game. Two Knights starters picked up three infractions each in the first quarter and Pius cashed in on nine free throws in the first eight minutes.

Churchill provided most of the spark for the Thunderbolts quick start. The husky 6-4 junior hit 17 points in the first half and was the man in command on both the offensive and defensive boards,

NWU Faces Wayne State

Nebraska Wesleyan University Plainsmen, still trying to recover their offensive punch of the first semester, run up against Wayne State tonight in Ira Taylor Gym.

Game time is 7:30 p.m. The Plainsmen are averaging only 68 points a night in the two contests since second semester began — far below the 91.8 point average for the season.

Wayne State brings a 9-8 season mark and a 3-3 Nebraska Wesleyan record into tonight's tussle.

Wayne has dropped its last two ball games; 84-80 to Peru and 91-89 to Doane.

The Thunderbolts, now 8-3 for the season, are at home again tonight, meeting Nebraska City, a team that provided Bishop Ryan with one of its four victories this year. The Knights have lost 10.

In the preliminary contest, Pius' reserves came out on the short end of a 67-51 score.

speaking a total of 18 rebounds for the evening.

Wickham, after garnering just one field goal in the first two quarters, warmed up in the second half and kept the T-Bolt scoring machine going with six fielders. Frequently fooling Ryan with his fakes, the 6-1 senior guard was also awarded 12 free throw chances and converted nine.

Sophomore Mike Bohaty, who had been ailing earlier in the week, was strong enough to help the Pius cause with 13 points while the other starters — Mike Johnson and Bob Chaves — chipped in with 12 and nine points respectively.

Bishop Ryan's best performance came from junior Ken Fila, who totaled 21 points.

Both teams performed like pros in the foul shooting department; Pius converting 26 of 39 and Ryan 24 of 30.

Creighton Prep Drops Top-Ranked Bellevue

... LEADERS DROPPED FROM UNBEATEN RANKS

By DON FORSYTHE
Prep Sports Writer

Omaha — Bellevue, last class a team to escape defeat, was dropped into the ranks of the defeated as Creighton Prep rolled to a 52-49 decision before 8,217 fans here Friday night.

The junior Jays bounced back from last week's unexpected loss to Council Bluffs Abraham Lincoln with all-star Waller Anderzunas showing the way. The big senior scored 32 points to pace the winners.

Bellevue, which carried a ten-game winning streak into the contest, went seven minutes without scoring from the field. During that time, Anderzunas had dumped in 11 points to boost Prep into a 15-2 lead.

The Chieftains never recovered from their early slump, although keeping pressure on Tom Brosnan's club all the way. But each time Bellevue threatened An-

High Court Accepts Finance Law Test

Original Action Approved; District Courts Bypassed

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

The State Supreme Court Friday agreed to accept as an original action a suit testing the constitutionality of LB11, Nebraska's comprehensive new finance law.

The court's action allowed three plaintiff industrial loan and investment companies to bypass the District Court and take their case directly to the high tribunal for an early determination.

Plaintiffs are the State Securities Co., The Commonwealth Co. and Mutual Savings Co., all of Lincoln.

16 Counts

The petition, filed by Lincoln attorney Herman Ginsburg, requests a court injunction against enforcement of LB11 and alleges that the act is unconstitutional on 16 separate counts.

Atty. Gen. Clarence Meyer will file an answer later in behalf of State Banking Director Henry Ley, who is named as defendant.

No date for a hearing has yet been set.

In a prepared statement, Meyer praised the three firms for their help in bringing the issues before the court.

Public Interest

"Their help in this matter and the vigorous stand they have taken in their petition should provide a comprehensive and expeditious test of LB11, and is in the highest public interest," he stated.

Meyer noted that the Legislature "had directed that the governor and the attorney general take the necessary steps to arrange for this type of action, but without the cooperation of these industrial loan and investment companies, a test of the new law might have been delayed for many months."

Gov. Frank Morrison said: "I'm very happy the court is entertaining original jurisdiction because it will speed up and expedite a decision on the constitutionality of LB11."

LB11, enacted by the 1963 special session of the Legislature, became effective Dec. 16.

The bill grew out of the legislative debris and economic chaos left in the wake of Supreme Court decisions which ruled out two installment sales acts.

Usury At 9%

It provides (1) a general usury limit of 9% interest on conventional loans; (2) a new installment loan (including time sales) structure with a maximum 12% rate, and (3) a new small loan act with a $1,500 limitation and a maximum charge of 30% on the first $300, 24% on the next $200 and 12% on the next $1,000.

The finance industry has been awaiting a court test before fully utilizing the new law.

Plaintiffs told the court that they have been placed in "an extremely hazardous position" by doubt over the constitutionality of the act.

If it is unconstitutional and they obey it—ignoring the provisions of the repealed industrial loan and investment company act—then they would be in violation of the old law, the petition stated.

Old Limits

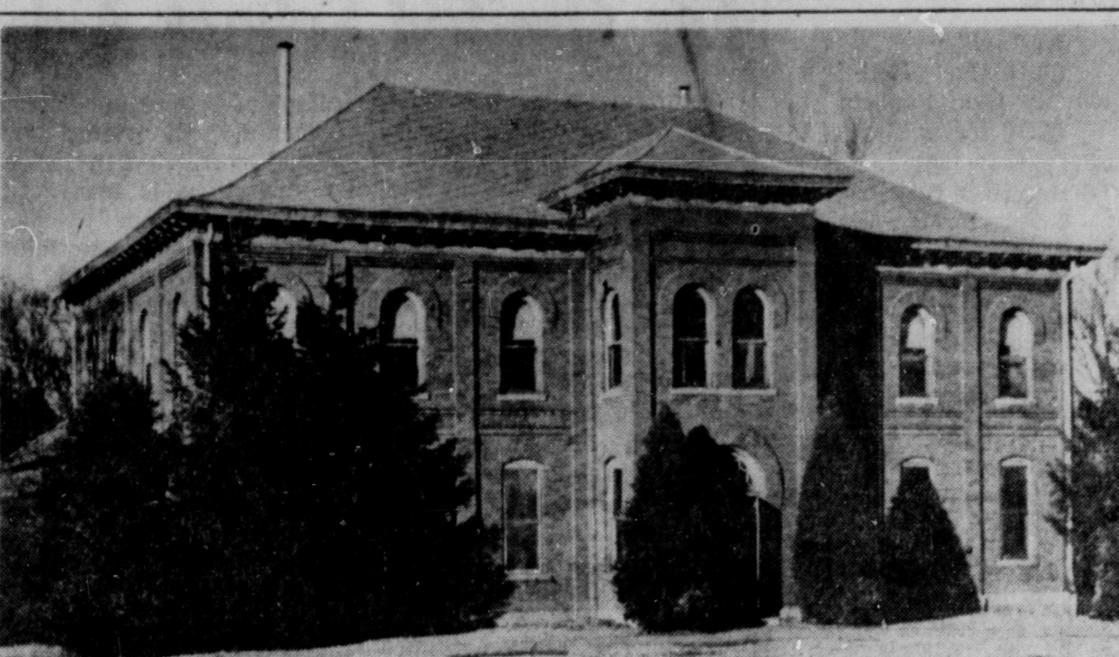

The old act (8-401 to 8-433) allowed them to charge 18% up to $1,000; 12% on the next $2,000, and 9% for anything in excess of $3,000.

The petition alleges that the old act has not been validly repealed, and is therefore still in force and effect.

Faced with a question as to which law is valid, the petition pleaded:

"Unless plaintiffs can obtain relief herein, the plaintiffs will thereby suffer great and irreparable harm and injury, loss and damage and plaintiffs do not have any plain, speedy and adequate remedies at law."

The three firms said that they transact some $10 million in installment loans annually.

training and $10,300 for fellowships.

Two-thirds of the research funds were received from the U.S. Public Health Service. The largest single item was a $101,044 grant from the Public Health Service to Dr. J. P. Tolman, dean of the College of Medicine at Omaha for general research support.

Other major research grants included:

$32,312 from the Nebraska Council for Economic Education to William Gillies, Bureau of Business Research, for economic education programs.

$30,669 from the Public Health Service to Ralph L. Ireland, dean of the College of Dentistry, for general research support.

Marsh Makes Quinlan Deputy

Secretary of State Frank Marsh announced Friday he has made administrative assistant Paul Quinlan deputy secretary of state.

Mrs. Blanche Jones has been named office manager and election clerk, and Mrs. Velma Ewerth administrative secretary in charge of office purchasing and inventory.

Marsh also reported that Kay Holahan of the office's brand division retired Feb. 1 after 24 years' service.

No replacement has been named yet, Marsh said.

Weihing Joins Ataturk Staff

Dr. John L. Weihing, University of Nebraska Extension plant pathologist, is joining the staff of Ataturk University at Erzurum, Turkey, for a two-year assignment.

The Board of Regents approved the appointment to become professor of plant science at Ataturk, a university being developed under a contract between the University of Nebraska, the federal government and the Turkish government. Dr. Weihing was granted a leave of absence.

In other staff changes, the Regents named J. Murray A. Cormack assistant professor of agricultural economics to fill a vacancy created by the resignation of Dr. Donald Kanel.

A native of Rosburn, Manitoba, Canada, Cormack holds a B.S. degree from the University of Manitoba and a M.S. degree from the University of Nebraska. He is slated to receive a Ph.D. degree from Iowa State University in June.

The Regents also named 22 staff members to the graduate college faculty.

Over $1 Million Given State For Disaster Relief

Nebraska has received a total of $1,294,978 in federal reimbursements for disaster relief since April, 1960 for blizzard and flood damages which occurred through 1962, Gov. Frank Morrison disclosed Friday.

Maj. Gen. Lyle A. Welch, Nebraska adjutant general and state disaster coordinator, presented to Morrison Friday figures showing reimbursements made for the March, 1962 blizzard and flood disasters and June, 1962 flood disaster.

Under the federal-state contract for the March disasters, a total of $475,000 was allocated to the state. Reimbursements, the last payment of which was completed February 3 this year, totaled $369,833.

The state was allocated a total of $255,000 for the June, 1962 flood disaster. Reimbursements paid four of the six counties involved thus far total $127,186. Estimated reimbursements for the two remaining counties (Dixon and Cedar) total $41,391, which will bring the grand total for this disaster to $168,578.

Still in the process of being settled is the federal-state contract for the June, 1963 flood disaster for which the federal government has allocated a total of $388,000 in relief funds.

As of this date, no payments have been received from the federal government under this contract, Welch said.

It takes approximately one year for reimbursements to be made and up to possibly another year for all procedures to be completed to close out the contracts.

A breakdown of the figures shows that reimbursements for the March, 1962 blizzard totaled $141,913, of which $89,722 went to 11 counties, $15,789 to 17 townships, and $36,401 to the State Aeronautics Department.

A total of $227,919 has been paid for the March flood disaster, of which $118,747 went to 16 counties, $2,869 for seven townships, $38,203 to eight cities and villages, and $68,099 for other government entities.

The state was allocated a total of $255,000 for the June, 1962 flood disaster. Reimbursements paid four of the six counties involved thus far total $127,186. Estimated reimbursements for the two remaining counties (Dixon and Cedar) total $41,391, which will bring the grand total for this disaster to $168,578.

Still in the process of being settled is the federal-state contract for the June, 1963 flood disaster for which the federal government has allocated a total of $388,000 in relief funds.

As of this date, no payments have been received from the federal government under this contract, Welch said.

It takes approximately one year for reimbursements to be made and up to possibly another year for all procedures to be completed to close out the contracts.

A breakdown of the figures shows that reimbursements for the March, 1962 blizzard totaled $141,913, of which $89,722 went to 11 counties, $15,789 to 17 townships, and $36,401 to the State Aeronautics Department.

A total of $227,919 has been paid for the March flood disaster, of which $118,747 went to 16 counties, $2,869 for seven townships, $38,203 to eight cities and villages, and $68,099 for other government entities.

The state was allocated a total of $255,000 for the June, 1962 flood disaster. Reimbursements paid four of the six counties involved thus far total $127,186. Estimated reimbursements for the two remaining counties (Dixon and Cedar) total $41,391, which will bring the grand total for this disaster to $168,578.

U.S. Moves To Oust Cuban Juveniles

. . . WHO WERE AMONG 38 CAPTURED FISHERMEN

Key West, Fla. (UPI) — Federal officers moved Friday to deport seven juvenile Cubans who were among the 38 fishermen seized for poaching in Florida waters last Sunday.

At the same time, a Czechoslovakian diplomat conferred with the 29 adult Cuban fishermen still in jail here.

"The problem is more complicated than I thought originally," said Dr. Frantisek Telickawas, first secretary of the Czech embassy in Washington who arrived here Thursday night. "I am trying to find a lawyer experienced in Cuban affairs."

Only Briefly

The diplomat would talk only briefly to newsmen after he had spent about an hour with the Cubans in the Monroe County Jail Friday morning. His embassy represents Cuban affairs in this country.

A spokesman for the U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service said the service planned to file a petition for custody of the juvenile crewmen, ranging in age from 14 to 16. Afterward, he said, the youths would be taken to the Cuban Detention Service at Opa-Locka, near Miami, to await deportation to Cuba.

Two of the original 38 Cubans seized off Dry Tortugas west of here Feb. 2 defeated earlier this week and received political asylum in this country.

No Decisions

Juvenile Court Judge Eva Warner Gibson ordered the juveniles brought before her Friday morning but made no decisions.

At the request of the state, a criminal court judge dismissed charges against the juveniles and requested federal authorities to deport them as soon as possible.

Despite the cutoff of the pipeline fresh water supply to the U.S. Naval Base at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, by the Cuban government in retaliation for the fishermen's arrest, Florida authorities have indicated they plan to press state charges against the remaining 29 fishermen.

Charged

The jailed Cubans are charged with violating a 1963 state law forbidding aliens from fishing in Florida waters. The maximum penalty is a $500 fine and a year in jail.

The four Cuban government-owned fishing vessels seized off Dry Tortugas, estimated by one state official to be worth at least $40 million, remained at anchor, a short distance off the docks at the U.S. Coast Guard base here.

Congratulations!
